Research the culture where your creation story originated and answer the following questions below. You may work with your partner to help answer the questions, but you each must turn in your own paper. The last two questions you should answer on your own. On the back of the paper list a minimum of 5 different sources (the different websites) where you found your information.

Who does your creation story belong to?

What region of the world does/did your story come from?

When was your culture alive and thriving?

Do they still exist today?

If yes, do they still believe in the creation story of their ancestors? Why or why not?

If no, what happened to the culture and beliefs of that culture or region that they are no longer around?

What are some additional rituals and beliefs of their time? Provide four examples.
